PPG PAINTS ARENA

"This partnership with our friends at PPG is one of the key factors in our success as a franchise."

- David Morehouse, CEO and President

PPG Paints Arena, home of the five-time Stanley Cup champion Pittsburgh Penguins, is now in its ninth season of operation as Pittsburgh's multi-purpose entertainment venue.

Ranked as one of the finest indoor facilities in North America, PPG Paints Arena hosts more than 150 events each year, ranging from NHL hockey to collegiate sports, concerts, family shows, skating shows and more.

PPG acquired naming rights in October 2016 to the arena that had been known previously as CONSOL Energy Center.

"This partnership with our friends at PPG is one of the key factors in our success as a franchise," said David Morehouse, president and CEO of the Penguins. "PPG is an outstanding global organization that makes its home here in Pittsburgh, and our partnership offers exciting opportunities for our fans, as well as engagement opportunities for PPG employees and customers."

In addition to hosting the Stanley Cup Finals in 2016 and 2017, the arena has hosted the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament early rounds (2012, 2015 and 2018), the NHL Draft (2012), the NCAA "Frozen Four" (2013), the USA Gymnastics Championships (2014) and the Atlantic 10 Men's Basketball Conference Championship tournament (2017).

And more national events are on the way, as three NCAA national championships will be held here between 2019 and 2021 - wrestling (2019), women's volleyball (2019) and men's hockey Frozen Four (2021). The first and second rounds of the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament also will return in 2022.

PPG Paints Arena will continue to host the annual "City Game" between NCAA basketball rivals Pitt and Duquesne as well as the annual "Three Rivers Classic" hockey tournament, this year featuring host Robert Morris, St. Cloud State, Union and Brown.

Pittsburgh's much-anticipated new arena opened its doors on August 18, 2010 with a grand opening concert by music legend Paul McCartney, who had not performed in the city since 1990. McCartney had played Pittsburgh as far back as 1964 at the old Civic Arena across the street.

The facility seats 18,387 for hockey, more than 19,000 for basketball and almost 20,000 for concerts. It is a green building and is the first NHL arena to attain LEED Gold certification.

A funding plan for the new arena project was completed in March 2007, thanks to the combined efforts of Pennsylvania Governor Ed Rendell, Allegheny County Executive Dan Onorato and Pittsburgh Mayor Luke Ravenstahl, among others.

The arena was completed on time and under budget in 2010, thanks to architectural firms Populous and Astorino; the owner's representative, ICON Venue Group; the construction company, PJ Dick/Hunt; and the excellent construction workers and skilled trade workers of Western Pennsylvania.

The Sports & Exhibition Authority owns the building on behalf of the city and country, and the Penguins have the lease. The arena Is managed by AEG facilities, with Gary Desjardins serving as general manager.

A groundbreaking ceremony for the new arena was held on August 14, 2008.

LE MAGNIFIQUE

Penguins Hall of Fame owner Mario Lemieux addressed the crowd during the 'Le Magnifique' statue dedication on March 7, 2012.

Le Magnifique The Statue

The singular image of Mario Lemieux's greatness as a hockey player is Lemieux bursting through two defensemen en route to the goal – brilliant, determined, unstoppable. As captured in this unique sculpture, the image also is a metaphor for everything Lemieux has accomplished in his life and career, overcoming obstacles, turning back challenges, facing seemingly insurmountable odds yet somehow succeeding through talent, dedication and sheer will. After beating cancer, Lemieux turned his focus to raising money for cancer research and neo-natal research, and his efforts through the Mario Lemieux Foundation have had a far-ranging impact on our community, especially our children. Having bought the Pittsburgh Penguins out of bankruptcy, he also led the effort to turn them into a model franchise – worthy of championships but also of the No. 1 ranking in Fan Relations in all of professional sports. His relentless quest for a new arena for Pittsburgh resulted in the spectacular PPG Paints Arena, the region's multi-purpose entertainment center and soon to be a magnet for 21st century development.

"The singular image of Mario Lemieux's greatness as a hockey player is Lemieux bursting through two defensemen en route to the goal – brilliant, determined, unstoppable."

UPMC LEMIEUX SPORTS COMPLEX

The UPMC Lemieux Sports Complex in Cranberry Township is, indeed, unique.

Known to hockey fans as the primary practice home of the five-time Stanley Cup champion Pittsburgh Penguins, it also is the first such facility in the country to combine hockey with a world-class medical center and performance training center

"It's a one-of-a-kind world-class complex right here in the Pittsburgh area, right here in Cranberry Township," Penguins president and CEO David Morehouse said.

Now in its fourth year of operation, the 185,000-square foot complex includes 54,000 square feet of clinical space, offering expert care in orthopaedics, concussion management, physical and occupational therapy and on-site MRI and X-ray imaging.

The Penguins have a locker room and weight room similar to those at PPG Paints Arena as well as other NHL-style facilities for coaches and players.

The two sheets of ice here are home to the DICK'S Sporting Goods Pittsburgh Penguins Elite youth hockey program in addition to amateur and high school games, adult hockey leagues and instructional camps and clinics. Events have ranged from basic learn-to-skate programs to United States Hockey League games and World Cup of Hockey practices. The complex also is home to the EXCEL Hockey Academy.

Other programs include public skating, figure skating and numerous community events.

"Absolutely incredible," NHL Commissioner Gary Bettman said. "I don't think there's a facility like this in the world, that has the combination of medical treatment, diagnosis, rehab, training, fitness and the ice rinks themselves ... this is going to be a revolutionary place."

Last season, among its other highlights, the complex hosted the Kraft Hockeyville game between the Penguins and St. Louis Blues, the USA Hockey Tier 1 regional district championships and a National Women's Hockey League regular-season game.

The exciting schedule for 2018-19 includes the USHL Fall Classic; a USA Hockey sled event; the Pittsburgh Girls Thanksgiving Classic; an NWHL regular-season game; and the USA Hockey 14U national championships.

Rich Hixon oversees all business operations as president of the UPMC Lemieux Sports Complex. Kara Radeke, director of business operations, assists with management of the facilty and oversees ice scheduling. Brandon Radeke, director of facility operations, is responsible for operations and ice quality to ensure consistency between the complex and PPG Paints Arena.

The world-class hockey staff includes Brian Mueller, executive director of hockey development and programming; Danny McKinnon, Elite hockey director; Trevor Edwards, skill development professional; Jeff Hannan, skill development professional; Kevin Muller, skating professional; Rocky Saganiuk, local manager, Learn to Play; and Mike Chiasson, goaltending professional. They are joined by Billy Larkins, director of sports performance, who oversees strength and conditioning programs at the facility.

The sports medicine clinic includes 24 private patient rooms and a physical therapy gym overlooking the Penguins' practice rink. There also is a dedicated sports performance space.

TEAM INFORMATION

MARIO LEMIEUX

CO-OWNER/CHAIRMAN

Mario Lemieux is known as one of the greatest players in NHL history, with two Stanley Cups, six NHL scoring titles, three MVP awards, two Conn Smythe Trophies, a Calder Trophy, a Masterton Trophy – and an Olympic gold medal for good measure.

Now, he's also established himself as one of the league's greatest owners.

Lemieux and co-owner Ron Burkle led the Penguins to three Stanley Cups in a nine-year span between 2009 and 2017, giving Mario more Cups as an owner than he won as a player.

His transition from excellence on the ice to excellence in the front office – with five Cups in all – has been another remarkable achievement in a truly unprecedented pro sports career.

"I don't know that there's another individual who's had the impact on a franchise that Mario has had on the Pittsburgh Penguins," said David Morehouse, the Penguins' president and CEO. "He saved the team as a player and led it to two Stanley Cups. He bought the team out of bankruptcy, led the effort for a new arena and delivered three more Cups. And that doesn't even touch on what he's done for the city as a philanthropist with the Mario Lemieux Foundation. He is one of a kind."

Lemieux and Burkle organized a group of investors that bought the Penguins out of bankruptcy in 1999. The combination of Lemieux's hockey acumen and Burkle's business savvy made them a formidable front office tandem and led to a series of spectacular achievements both on and off the ice.

The Penguins, during that time, have become one of the premier franchises in all of sports, leading the way in fan relations, youth marketing, community outreach and innovative technology while consistently putting a winning product on the ice. That includes qualifying for the playoffs for 12 straight seasons – the longest current streak in the NHL – and reaching the Cup Final four times and the conference finals five times in the past 11 years.

The Penguins entered the 2018-19 season having sold out every game for 11-plus seasons while setting high standards for television ratings, corporate sales and social media.

Lemieux and Burkle were driving forces in the quest for a new multi-purpose arena, which opened in August, 2010. PPG Paints Arena is considered one of the top facilities in North America and has hosted such national events as the 2012, 2015 and 2018 NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament opening rounds, the 2012 NHL Draft, the 2013 NCAA Frozen Four, the 2014 USA Gymnastics Championships and the 2016 and 2017 Stanley Cup Finals. NCAA national championships in wrestling and women's volleyball will be held here in 2019.

Lemieux also helped to launch the UPMC Lemieux Sports Complex in nearby Cranberry, Pa. Now in its fourth year of operation, the practice home of the Penguins is the first facility of its kind to combine hockey with a world-class medical center and sports performance complex.

As a player, "Le Magnifique" was a gifted 6-foot-4 centerman who dominated play for parts of three decades. Although he faced a numbing series of medical setbacks, including multiple back surgeries and a battle with Hodgkin's disease, he retired in 2006 as the No. 7 all-time scorer in NHL history with 1,723 points. He also ranked eighth all-time in goals (690) and 10th in assists (1,033).

After retiring as a player for the first time in 1997, he put together an ownership group to buy the Penguins out of bankruptcy in September 1999 and then returned to the ice on December 27, 2000 – becoming the first player-owner of the modern era. He also captained Team Canada to an Olympic gold medal in 2002.

In addition to his legendary hockey accomplishments, he continues to oversee the Mario Lemieux Foundation, which has raised more than $25 million for charity. More information is available at mariolemieux.org.

Mario and his wife, Nathalie, have raised four children and reside in Sewickley.

RON BURKLE

CO-OWNER

Ron Burkle, one of the preeminent investors in retail, hospitality, technology and distribution industries, is also a three-time Stanley Cup champion as co-owner of the Pittsburgh Penguins.

Burkle teamed with Mario Lemieux to buy the team out of bankruptcy in September, 1999, and together they have become one of the outstanding ownership duos in professional sports, winning three Cups from 2009-2017

Among Burkle's many significant contributions to the Penguins was his essential role in negotiations for a new arena. PPG Paints Arena is considered one of the finest indoor facilities in North America and has attracted many national-level events to Pittsburgh, including NCAA basketball and hockey. But he also helped create a winning mindset for the Penguins organization both on and off the ice.

Although Burkle prefers to operate quietly and behind the scenes, Lemieux praises his immense role in the team's success.

"Ron is one of the main reasons we still have hockey in Pittsburgh," Lemieux told the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette. "If I was not able to buy the Penguins and have Ron as our top investor, I don't think the Penguins would be here today. He's a great guy and a very smart businessman. He loves Pittsburgh, he loves the Penguins. I think people should know that."

Under the leadership of Lemieux and Burkle, the Penguins have sold out every game for 11-plus seasons and consistently ranked among the most fan-friendly and community-minded teams in the NHL and all of pro sports.

The Penguins have earned 12 straight playoff berths and reached the conference finals five times in the past 11 years, in addition to the three Cups. The team's solid foundation of ownership has enabled hockey management to spend to the salary cap, sign many of the team's core players to long-term contracts and put a competitive team on the ice year after year.

Burkle founded the Yucaipa Companies in 1986 and has served as Chairman of the Board and controlling shareholder of numerous companies, including Americold, Soho House, Golden State Foods, Dominick's, Fred Meyer, Ralphs and Food4Less.

Ron is Co-Chairman of the Burkle Center for International Relations at UCLA and is broadly involved in the community. He is a member of the Board of The Scripps Research Institute, the National Urban League and Frank Lloyd Wright Conservancy. He is a trustee of the Carter Center, and AIDS Project Los Angeles (APLA). Ron was the Founder and Chairman of the Ralphs/ Food4Less Foundation and the Fred Meyer Inc. Foundation. He was a member of the board of Occidental Petroleum Corporation (NYSE: OXY), KB Home (NYSE: KBH), Kaufman & Broad S.A. (Euronext: KOF), Yahoo! (Nasdaq: YHOO), the J. Paul Getty Trust, the Los Angeles County Museum of Art, The Music Center and the Museum of Contemporary Art, Los Angeles.

He has received numerous honors and awards, incuding the AFL-CIO's Murray Green Meany Kirkland Community Service Award, the Los Angeles County Federation Man of the Year, the Los Angeles County Boy Scouts Jimmy Stewart Person of the Year Award and the APLA Commitment to Life Award.

DAVID MOREHOUSE

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER & PRESIDENT

In 11 seasons as a senior executive with the Penguins, David Morehouse has seen the team win three Stanley Cups, make the Cup Finals four times and reach the conference finals five times.

Though his expertise is on the team's business side – especially branding and marketing – Morehouse's greatest achievement has been creating a corporate culture that has driven the Penguins to consistent excellence both on and off the ice.

"It's no coincidence that we've enjoyed this kind of success with David Morehouse as our key senior executive," said co-owner Ron Burkle. "We've obviously made a lot of great acquisitions on the player side, but one of the best acquisitions we've ever made was David himself."

The Penguins have become one of the NHL's strongest business entities during Morehouse's tenure – selling out every game for 11-plus seasons, setting new standards for television ratings and corporate sales and increasing their focus on innovative youth marketing. The Penguins again led all U.S.-based NHL teams in local television ratings in 2017-18.

Morehouse joined the team as a consultant on the new arena project in 2004 and was named team president in April 2007. He was given the additional responsibilities of Chief Executive Officer just as the team's new arena was opening in August, 2010.

Under his leadership, the Penguins have reshaped their strategic vision with an emphasis on branding, fan relations, community interaction, corporate outreach and cutting-edge technology, while maintaining a high level of performance on the ice.

A strong commitment to fan outreach includes an annual event where players personally deliver season tickets to fans' homes and a special preseason game where all 18,000 tickets are distributed free to local youth. Morehouse also was a driving force behind the new UPMC Lemieux Sports Complex, which opened in August, 2015. It is the first facility to combine hockey with a world-class medical center and sports performance complex.

Morehouse joined the Penguins following a career in national politics that included stints at the White House, Pentagon and on Capitol Hill – as well as key roles in two Presidential campaigns. He attended the Community College of Allegheny County and Duquesne University and received a master's degree in Public Administration from Harvard University's John F. Kennedy School of Government. He is a native of the Pittsburgh neighborhood of Beechview.

TRAVIS WILLIAMS

CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER

Travis Williams is in his 11th season as a senior executive with the Penguins, currently serving as Chief Operating Officer and overseeing day-to-day business and arena operations.

In addition, Williams serves as the Penguins' point man on the development of the former Civic Arena site and oversaw the construction of the much-acclaimed UPMC Lemieux Sports Complex in Cranberry.

Williams joined the Penguins in 2008 as Senior Vice President of Business Affairs/General Counsel. One of his first responsibilities was to guide the construction and development of the team's new arena – bringing the project to completion on time and under budget for the start of the 2010-11 season. He now serves as the team's liaison with building manager AEG Facilities, working closely with AEG on all arena-related events, including major concerts and national-level sporting events.

Previously, Williams had been a partner at Reed Smith LLP, where he specialized in mergers and acquisitions, investment management, commercial lending and general corporate matters. During his 12 years at Reed Smith, Williams also represented several sports franchises, regional sports networks and other sports-related businesses.

A native of Indianapolis, he graduated from Penn State University and received a Juris Doctorate from Duquesne University, summa cum laude. While at Duquesne, he was a member of the Duquesne Law Review and the Duquesne Business Law Journal.

CIVIC/MELLON ARENA

The Civic Arena served as the home of the Penguins from their inception in 1967 until its final season of operation in 2009-10 – a span of 43 years. The dome-shaped structure in the heart of uptown Pittsburgh was affectionately known throughout the region as "The Igloo."

The arena, which was renamed Mellon Arena in 1999 through its final year of operation in 2010, was originally built for the Civic Light Opera in 1961. During its final season as the home venue for the Penguins, it was the oldest facility in the National Hockey League.

During its lifetime the Civic Arena hosted signature league events like the Stanley Cup Final four times, the semi/conference finals seven times, the 1990 NHL All-Star Game and the 1997 NHL Draft.

The arena featured a retractable stainless steel roof and was part of a controlled demolition project. The final NHL game ever played in the building was on May 12, 2010, a playoff contest against the Montreal Canadiens. Following the contest the ice was melted into a jar and then ceremoniously poured onto the center ice dot of PPG Paints Arena prior to the new state-of-the art venue's first game by Penguins owner and Hall of Fame player Mario Lemieux.

The Penguins were the main tenant of the Civic Arena. But it also served as the home site for the American Hockey League's Pittsburgh Hornets, Duquesne University basketball, the Pittsburgh Pipers and Pittsburgh Condors of the old American Basketball Association in the 1960s and 70s, and the Pittsburgh Spirit.

The Civic Arena hosted NCAA men's and women's basketball tournaments, boxing matches featuring Muhammad Ali and Sonny Liston, the Harlem Globetrotters, professional wrestling, ice skating and gymnastics competitions, world team tennis matches, concerts from such legendary acts as the Beatles, Frank Sinatra and Elvis Presley, Hollywood films and political rallies.

The Civic Arena held a capacity of 12,580 seats in its first year in 1967. A series of expansions and modernization improvements raised the capacity to 16,940 and over 17,000 with standing-room only access.

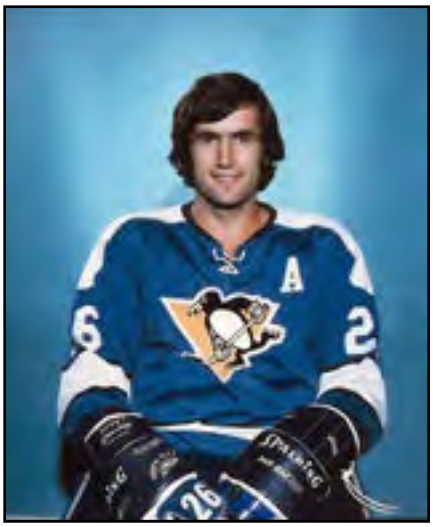
UNIFORM HISTORY

Ken Schinkel (1970)



Syl Apps (1974)

Randy Carlyle (1983)

The Penguins have experienced plenty of changes in their history and their uniforms are no exception.

When the Penguins made their NHL debut at home on October 11, 1967, the team wore the colors light blue, dark blue and white. Both the home (light blue) and road (white) uniforms simply had the word "PITTSBURGH" written diagonally down the front of the sweater with five white stripes with six thin navy blue stripes around the sleeves and bottom (home) and five dark blue stripes with six thin, white stripes around the sleeves and bottom (road). The logo, although not on the sweater, featured a hockey-playing penguin in a scarf over an inverted triangle, symbolizing the golden triangle of downtown Pittsburgh. The penguin and triangle were set inside a circle bearing the team name.

The following season (1968-69), the uniforms were changed so that the logo appeared on the game sweaters. The logo remained essentially the same, although the penguin was no longer wearing a scarf. The home (light blue) uniforms had a wide band of white trimmed in dark blue around each sleeve and the bottom, while the road (white) sweaters had bands of light blue trimmed in dark blue. The home (light blue) sweaters had white shoulder yokes and the road (white) sweaters had light blue shoulder yokes.

In the 1970-71 season the Penguins began wearing white at home and light blue on the road. The Penguins became one of the first teams in NHL history to wear nameplates featuring a player's last name above the number on the back of the jersey. The nameplates were only added to the home (white) jerseys in 1970-71.

The uniforms themselves were essentially unchanged from 1968-69 to 1971-72, until the circle around the logo was removed, leaving only a penguin and a triangle, midway through the 1971-72 season.

Beginning in 1972-73, the Penguins replaced the light blue with a bolder, royal blue color. During the Penguins' first seven years in the league, both home and road jerseys featured a lace-up collar at the base of the neck. The lace-up collars were also a thing of the past moving into the 1974-75 season.

Chevrons were used as the sleeve stripes for the 1974-75 season. Shaped in the form of an inverted V, the sleeve stripes were royal blue and white with navy blue cuffs on the home (white) jerseys. The road (royal blue) jerseys had white and navy blue sleeve stripes with white cuffs forming the chevrons. The waist striping also changed to match the chevrons with royal blue, white and navy blue moving down the home (white) uniforms and white, navy blue and white moving down the road (royal blue) uniforms.

The chevrons road (royal blue) uniform was done to the hem striping. From top to bottom, the hem striping was white, royal blue and navy blue. The home (white) uniforms reverted back to the 1972-73 and 1973-74 designs, but did not have the lace-up collar from those prior seasons. The collar was now a solid navy blue color.

For the 1977-78 season the uniforms were tri-colored with the Penguins doing away with the royal blue and bringing back the light blue the team wore in its first five seasons in the NHL. The home (white) uniforms featured navy blue sleeves with white and navy blue striping capped by light blue cuffs. The road (navy blue) uniforms featured white sleeves with light blue and white striping capped by navy blue cuffs. The front hem striping was light blue, white, navy blue and light blue on both the home (white) and road (navy blue) uniforms.

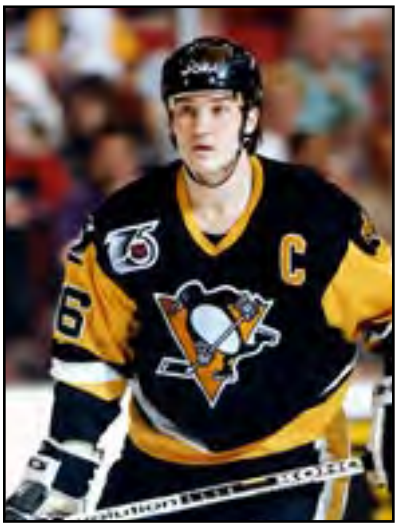
On Jan. 30, 1980 the Penguins wore black and gold for the first time. With the Steelers winning the Super Bowl and the Pirates capturing the World Series title in the same year, the Penguins hoped to gain fan support with aligning their colors with the other teams in the "City of Champions." Boston protested the color change to the NHL, arguing that black and gold had always been exclusively associated with the Bruins. However, the Penguins prevailed by virtue of a precedent set by the Pittsburgh Pirates hockey club of the late 1920s, which sported the colors.

The Penguins' new uniforms were the same design as the previous ones, with black replacing dark blue and gold replacing light blue. A third sleeve stripe was also added to both the home and road jerseys. The player numbers that were formerly on the sleeves were moved to the top of each shoulder. From 1980-81 through the 1984-85 season, the team alternated wearing gold sweaters with white at home, which also featured the tri-color sleeve striping.

On March 15, 1983, Baz Bastien, the Penguins general manager at the time, died tragically in a car accident as he returned home from a dinner honoring him. For the remainder of the 1982-83 season the Penguins added a black armband on the left sleeve of their home (white) jerseys.

For the 1988-89 season, the player numbers were moved from the shoulders to the sleeves as they were prior to the Penguins adopting the black and gold color scheme.

Paul Coffey (1988)



Mario Lemieux (1992)

The NHL All-Star Game made its first appearance in Pittsburgh on January 21, 1990. The Penguins wore a 41st NHL All-Star patch on the left shoulder of their jerseys in 1989-90 and the beginning of 1990-91. During the same time frame, the NHL shield logo appeared on the back right hem of every jersey worn in the NHL.

Advancing to the Stanley Cup Final for the first time in team history, the Penguins honored this achievement by wearing the 1991 Stanley Cup Final patch on their home and road jerseys during every game of the 1991 Stanley Cup Final vs. Minnesota.

The 1991-92 season marked the NHL's 75th anniversary. The Penguins added the NHL 75th Anniversary logo to the right chest of their jerseys that season. In addition, the Penguins were also celebrating their 25th anniversary after joining the league in 1967-68. The Penguins added their own anniversary patch to the right shoulder of the jerseys.

Head coach "Badger" Bob Johnson passed away on November 26, 1991. The following night, the Penguins honored the memory of Johnson with a candlelight ceremony and placed a "Badger" memorial patch on the left shoulder of their jerseys.

After reaching the Stanley Cup Final for the second consecutive season, the Penguins proudly donned their second Stanley Cup Final patch in as many years. This time, the Final patch was sewn onto a piece of white (home) or black (road) material and then the material swatch was sewn over the NHL 75th Anniversary patch on the right chest of the jersey.

The black and gold uniforms remained virtually unchanged until 1992-93, when the triangle and penguin logo was modernized. The home (white) sweaters featured the new logo on the front and gold shoulder inserts. The road (black) sweaters had the city's name diagonally down the front, much like the original team uniforms, with the new logo on each shoulder. Also in 1992-93, the Stanley Cup turned 100 years old and was honored by each team by having a commemorative patch added to their jerseys during the season. The Penguins wore the patch on the right chest of their home (white) jerseys and did not wear the patch on their road (black) jerseys due to the lack of an appropriate place to put the patch with the new "PITTSBURGH" diagonal jerseys with the new logos on each shoulder.

During the 1995-96 season, the Penguins were one of five NHL teams to introduce a third jersey. The Penguins' new uniform, which made its debut on Jan. 27, 1996 vs. the Philadelphia Flyers, featured a black background with a new, modernized midsection, shoulder and sleeve design that included innovative striping and a blend of team colors. The alternate uniform replaced the "PITTSBURGH" road jersey as the team's away uniform for 1997-98 season.

In 1999-00, the NHL commemorated the league's advance into the new millennium with an NHL2000 patch that was placed on the right chest of each team's jerseys in team colors. The Penguins' NHL2000 patch was black with silver lettering.

Traveling to Japan for the first two games of the 2000-01 season to face the Nashville Predators, the Penguins wore a commemorative GameOne/Japan patch on the right chest of their home (white) and black (road) jerseys.

On Oct. 28, 2000 the Penguins hosted the New Jersey Devils and introduced a new third jersey. The black sweater featured the popular "skating penguin" logo, which the team wore during its 1991 and 1992 Stanley Cup championship seasons, and the newest color addition, Vegas gold. This black jersey served as the Penguins' third jersey for the 2000-01 and 2001-02 seasons.

In 2002-03, the Penguins introduced a white counterpart to the black "skating penguin" and Vegas gold colored jerseys. These "skating penguin" uniforms served as the Penguins home and road jerseys from 2002-03 to 2006-07.

On Jan. 22, 2007 during the NHL All-Star break, the NHL and Reebok unveiled the new Rbk EDGE Uniform System. The Penguins' jerseys featured thicker Vegas gold side sections, while the black and white body portions of the jersey go all the way to the bottom hem. The cuffs and underarms were black on the white-based jerseys and were white on the black-based uniforms. Additional Vegas gold inserts appeared on the sleeves just below the numbers. The NHL shield also has moved from the back right hem to the base of the front neckline.

The Penguins wore retro jerseys when they battled the Sabres at the NHL Winter Classic on Jan. 1, 2008 at Ralph Wilson Stadium. The Penguins wore powder blue jerseys patterned after the 1968-69 uniforms. The jersey featured the Penguins logo inside a circle. There was a wide band of white trimmed in dark blue around each sleeve and the bottom with white shoulder yokes. The jersey became the club's official alternate third jersey.

In 2010-11 the Penguins opened the brand-new CONSOL Energy Center. To commemorate the event, the team wore a special patch at all home games featuring the team logo and outline of the new arena's spine.

The Penguins released a new Winter Classic uniform for their showdown with the Washington Capitals Jan. 1, 2011 at Heinz Field. Predominantly navy blue with light blue striped accents on the elbows and bottom, the jersey served as another alternate uniform for the season. The jerseys featured the team's inaugural skating penguin logo (which hadn't previously been worn on the jersey) on the crest and lace-up collar at the base of the neck.

Jordan Staal (2006)

For their third outdoor game on March 1, 2014 against the Chicago Blackhawks at Soldier Field as part of the NHL's Stadium Series, the Penguins wore a unique uniform that utilized secondary colors within the team's existing color palates.

It featured a chrome-treated Penguins logo design inspired from the chrome details of the NHL shield, a dynamic and modern look to conventional team identity. Numbering on the back of the jerseys was enlarged and sleeve numbers were angled to improve visibility in outdoor venues.

The Penguins went back to the future during the 2014-15 season, unveiling 'Pittsburgh Gold' third jerseys reminiscent of the sweaters the Penguins wore during their back-to-back Stanley Cup championship seasons of 1991 and '92.

At the outset of the team's 50th season in 2016-17, the Penguins announced that they would be returning full-time to a 'Pittsburgh Gold' color scheme, eliminating Vegas gold. The third jersey from the '14-15 and '15-16 seasons became the full-time home jersey, with an accompanying white version added for road contests.

The Penguins wore full "Pittsburgh gold" for their Stadium Series Game against the Philadelphia Flyers on February 25, 2017. The jersey featured the skating Penguin sans the traditional triangle behind it. In addition to a Stadium Series patch, the Pens also wore a "City of Champions" heritage patch on the left sleeve.

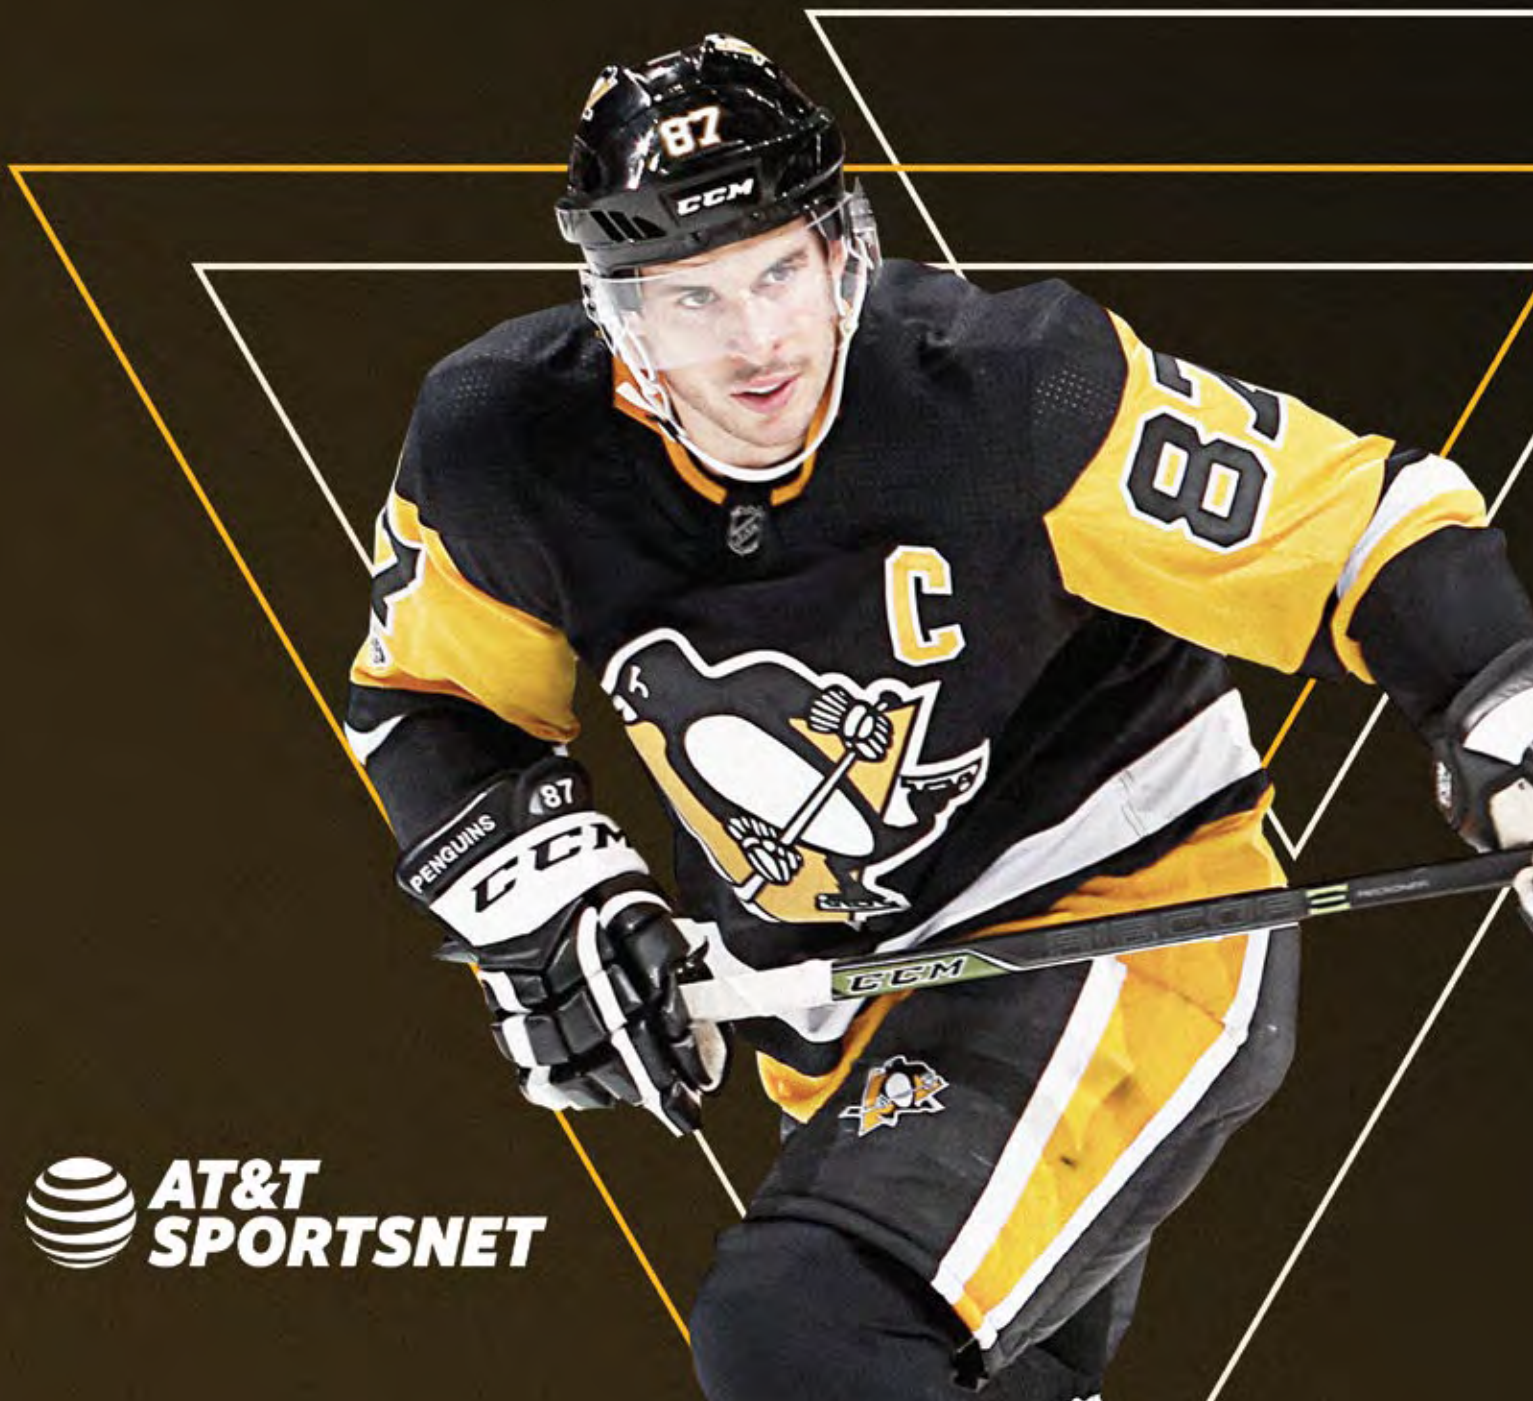
LIVE THE MOMENT



AT&T SPORTSNET

MEDIA INFORMATION

MEDIA ENTRANCE:

Members of the media can access PPG Paints Arena through the administrative entrance located near the corner of Fifth Avenue and Washington Place, just to the right of the Peoples Gate box office.

Media with proper accreditation should proceed to the 1st floor, using the elevators just inside the administrative entrance. Media will pass through three sets of double doors before turning right down the hallway towards the media areas. The media workroom will be on the left and the elevators to the media level are located further down the hallway to the right.

The Penguins require all members of the media to display credentials at all times inside PPG Paints Arena.

MEDIA WORKROOM:

The media workroom is located on the lower level in the south end of the building. Members of the media and game night staff must show passes or credentials at the door for admittance. The media room will be open two hours prior to the start of each game with dinner and beverages available for purchase.

The media workroom is equipped with wireless Internet, electrical outlets and a mult box. The media room is open to the media on all game days.

MEDIA LEVEL:

The media level is located on the east side of the building above sections 216-223. It is for game personnel and working members of the media only. Designated elevators to the media level are located down the hallway from the media room in the south end of the building. Take the elevators to the 7th floor and exit to the right.

Please note that ALL seats in the media level are assigned and media should refer to the posted seating charts for direction.

INDIVIDUAL GAME CREDENTIALS:

Game-by-game credentials will be issued based on availability and should be reserved as early as possible. Major daily newspapers, radio and television will receive priority in handling game-by-game requests. Requests from independent websites, freelance writers or blogs will not be fulfilled. These requests must be submitted to Emma Kilmer (ekilmer@pittsburghpenguins.com) no later than 48 hours prior to the game. THERE WILL BE NO EXCEPTIONS.

Game-by-game credentials can be picked up at the designated media entrance located to the right of the box office along Fifth Avenue two hours prior to game time.

Penguins team photographers and photographers affiliated with major media outlets that cover the team on a regular basis will be given priority for ice-level positions. All photographers at ice-level will be shooting through open holes in the glass. Single-game photographer credentials will be available on a game-by-game basis and assignments may rotate each period. Photo assignments will be posted in the media workroom and the photographer workroom prior to each game.

The Penguins will provide stools to be used at all ice-level photo positions. The stools will be numbered and available for pick up inside the photographer workroom. All stools must be signed out and returned to the workroom at the end of the night. The Penguins require that all ice-level photographers use the provided stools as a courtesy to our fans.

TELEVISION CREWS:

Due to seating limitations, television crews will not be assigned seating in the media level. Only on-air talent will be assigned seats in the media level. Television crews are asked to view the game in the media workroom. TV crews are not permitted to shoot highlight footage of game action.

LOCKER ROOM ACCESS:

The locker rooms are located behind the player benches on the west side of the building on the lower level. Both are accessible via the hallway from the media workroom.

The Penguins locker room will open no later than five minutes after the conclusion of the game per NHL regulations. Please be advised that this includes allotted time for post-game television interviews and the three stars ceremony. The Penguins training room, lounge and the players' dressing area is off-limits to the media at all times. The entrance to the Penguins locker room is through the double doors across from Suite 66 on the lower level.

At the conclusion of practice, the locker room will be open as per NHL requirements. Media are not permitted to access the Penguins runway at any time during practices or morning skates.

Only working members of the media with proper media credentials will be admitted to the locker rooms. Interns are permitted in the locker room in a working capacity. They are not permitted to observe or "assist" full-time members of the media during availability. Still photography is prohibited inside the locker room.

POST-GAME PROCEDURES:

Post-game briefings with Penguins head coach Mike Sullivan will be held after each game in the media room. Wireless Internet and a mult box will be available in the media room.

Post-game availability with the visiting head coach will be in the hallway near the visiting locker room.

Post-game audio from both coaches is available via email. Please see a member of the communications staff prior to the start of the game to be added to the distribution list.

Game notes and statistics will be available online and in the media workroom prior to practices and morning skates as well as the media level on game nights. Additional information from the NHL will also be available at these locations throughout the regular season.

Game summaries are available after each period in the media level. Final game summaries are distributed in the media level and media workroom after the game. If you require any special needs, please see a member of the Penguins communications staff.

PRACTICES AND MORNING SKATES:

Practice sessions are open to all accredited members of the media. The Penguins communications department will email out a practice and availability schedule at the beginning of each month. This email will contain a JPEG that can be saved directly to your phone. All times and locations are subject to change. The communications department will send an advisory when times or locations change. Credentials are required at practices.

RADIO NETWORK:

"The X", 105.9 FM, will serve as the Penguins' flagship radio station for the 2017-18 season. Hall of Famer Mike Lange, two-time Stanley Cup champion Phil Bourque and Josh Getzoff will call the action for all 82 games. "The X" is part of the Clear Channel Communications group.

TELEVSION COVERAGE:

AT&T SportsNet continues its extraordinary coverage of Penguins games this season, producing a minimum of 70 games. Steve Mears and two-time Stanley Cup champion Bob Errey will call the action along with rinkside reporter, Dan Potash.

STEVE MEARS
PLAY-BY-PLAY ANNOUNCER

Steve Mears enters his second season as television play-by-play broadcaster of the Penguins on AT&T SportsNet. Before joining AT&T SportsNet, Mears spent five seasons with NHL Network, which included serving as host of NHL Live, NHL NOW and as play-by-play announcer for the World Junior Championship and NHL International. As the voice of NHL International, Mears has called numerous outdoor NHL games, All-Star Games and the last three Stanley Cup Finals (the first two of which were won by the Penguins). While living in New York City, he also broadcast games for the New York Rangers and was a host on the MSG Radio Network.

Prior to his time at NHL Network, Mears spent three years as a host on the Penguins Radio Network and PensTV, including the final season at the Civic Arena. From 2006 to 2009, he also served as the radio play-by-play broadcaster for the New York Islanders, his first job in the NHL.

Mears is a 2002 graduate of Bowling Green State University, where he broadcast games for the Falcon hockey team for four years. Following his college tenure, he worked in minor league hockey as the voice of the Bossier-Shreveport Mudbugs in Bossier City, Louisiana for four seasons. He was named CHL Broadcaster of the Year in 2005.

A Western PA native, Mears grew up in Murrysville and is a graduate of Franklin Regional High School.

MIKE LANGE

One of the most unique broadcasters in professional sports, Mike Lange is in his 44th year as the voice of the Penguins, handling radio play-by-play on the club's flagship station, 105.9 FM "The X".

Known for his creative and colorful style, including trademark phrases such as "Buy Sam A Drink And Get His Dog One, Too," Lange was awarded the Foster Hewitt award by the Hockey Hall of Fame in 2001.

Lange's relationship with the Penguins began in 1974-75, when he broke into the NHL as a radio play-by-play man. He left for one season, but returned in 1976-77 and has been a fixture on the Penguins' scene ever since.

Lange did radio exclusively until 1979, when games were simulcast on radio and TV. He served as the television voice of the Penguins through 2005-06, before returning to the radio booth in 2006-07.

A native of Sacramento, California, Lange earned a degree in broadcasting from Sacramento State University before starting his career as the voice of the Phoenix Roadrunners (WHL) in 1970. He also served as the play-by-play voice of the San Diego Gulls (WHL) in 1973-74 before joining the Penguins.

In addition to his tenure with the Penguins, Lange handled play-by-play duties for the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1986-87. A well-known member of the Pittsburgh community, Lange makes numerous personal appearances throughout the year and is actively involved in charity work.

PHIL BOURQUE
COLOR ANALYST

Two-time Stanley Cup champion Phil Bourque is in his 16th season on the Penguins broadcast team, serving as color commentator alongside Mike Lange and Josh Getzoff.

A gritty winger/defenseman, Bourque was signed by Pittsburgh as a free agent in 1982, and went on to record 164 points (75G-89A) in 344 regular-season games with the Penguins between 1983 and 1992. For his career he totaled 199 points (88G-111A) in 477 games with the Penguins, New York Rangers and Ottawa.

Since retiring from professional hockey in 2000, Bourque has co-hosted Penguins pre- and post-game shows on the Penguins Radio Network and has worked as a contributor for AT&T Sportsnet's coverage of Penguins hockey.

JOSH GETZOFF
RADIO HOST/PENS TV

Getzoff is in his fourth season as a member of the Pittsburgh Penguins Radio Network's broadcast team. He has handled pre- and post-game show hosting duties each of the last three seasons, and also filled in as the team's play-by-play voice as needed during regular season action last year. In addition, Getzoff hosts the radio network's "GMJR Show" and "Highmark Coaches Show" during in-season programming.

Getzoff came to the Penguins following a successful stint at WICD/WCCU-TV, the ABC/FOX affiliate in Champaign, Illinois, where he served as the station's Sports Director. During his time in Illinois, he was named the TV Sportscaster of the Year in 2015 and was also honored for his work by the Illinois Associated Press. Prior to his time in Illinois, Getzoff worked at WENY-TV, the ABC/CBS affiliate in Elmira, New York, where he captured multiple New York State Associated Press awards for his efforts as a Sports Anchor/Reporter.

A 2011 graduate of Ithaca College's Roy H. Park School of Communications and a Pennsylvania native, Getzoff currently resides in Lawrenceville with his wife, Madeleine, and their dog, Maxie.
